August 8 – *Hook (1991, 2h 22m, PG), in English with French subtitles

When his young children are abducted by his old nemesis Captain Hook (Dustin Hoffman), middle-aged lawyer Peter Banning (Robin Williams) returns to Neverland and his origins as Peter Pan. When he abandoned Neverland for family life, Peter left Tinkerbell (Julia Roberts) and the Lost Boys to fend for themselves. Now, bitter that he grew up, Peter's old friends may not be happy to see him. A contemporary adaptation of J. M. Barrie's Peter Pan, a story largely inspired by the author's difficult childhood in Scotland.

August 15 – *Highlander (1986, 1h 56m, R), in English with French subtitles

A cult classic action-fantasy film about Connor MacLeod (Christopher Lambert), an immortal 16th-century swordsman from the Scottish Highlands. When the mystical Russell Nash — really MacLeod — kills a man in a sword fight in a New York City parking lot, he leaves behind a sliver from an ancient weapon. Forensics specialist Brenda Wyatt (Roxanne Hart) recovers evidence of the mysterious weapon and, with her partner Lt. Frank Moran (Alan North), lands in the middle of a dangerous, ancient feud between powerful immortals. Scottish actor Sean Connery plays MacLeod's mentor, Ramirez.
